

THE MEREDITH EAGLE.

MEREDITH, N. H., SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1883.

VOL. IV.

NO. 164.

THINGS I HATE.

I hate to see the world go wrong—
I mean the people in it—
I hate to sit down and think,
It only gives me a mind—
And try to set like honest men
And faithful, loving women;
Oh, what a blessing it would be
To all in our dominion.

I hate to see a man that looks
With such eyes, the while
Up in the face's face, in hopes
From his draw-saints;
And if perchance the bones should laugh,
And that way turn his eyes,
This miserable, crawling thing
With joy would nearly die.

I hate to see a churchman,
A minister, a priest, and grave,
With tears a rolling down his cheeks,
Pray God my soul to life.
If I seek him for a dollar
To buy my bales some bread,
He'll very soon dry up his tears,
And shake his saintly head.

I hate to see a cheekweight,
That is to say, two dollars per day
By his master, fellow-workmen,
Turning them out and out,
And weighing for the operator,
At the very same machine,
For a dollar and fifty cents a day.
Does he think the men are green?

I hate to look upon a man
Taking himself a wife,
To bring her to his mother's house,
Saying, "My darling, you must do
All that my mother may say,
Because you took a solemn vow
Your husband to obey."

What shall we do with all such men?
'Tis enough to make one swear;
But it takes all sorts to make a world;
Then let us all beware.

JAMES LAVENDER.

THE SEYNE SAPPHIRES.

"Yes, sir, I worked twenty years in my last place, and a better mistress a poor girl never had! Of course, she was a bit hasty now and then, being of French blood, you know, and when anything crossed her, why, instead of being cool and dignified like a lady in her station ought to have been, she just scolded like a fish-wife! And when the vexed feeling passed away, or she found out that she was wrong, 'Lor' bless you, sir, she was as humble and kind as could be!"

"Her name was Madame Seyne—the rich Madame Seyne, of Cedarcroft, do you say? Yes, to be sure! You've heard of her. I seen; but don't you—near tell about her wonderful sapphires being stolen? No? Well, it's no wonder, for they tried to snash it up. Even Miss Ethel did. But I just wish you could have seen the jewels! Such a dazzling bit of beauty! I never laid my eyes on t' them were kept in a big silver box, all fancy-work on the outside, and white satin on the inside. And you don't know how lovely they looked against the pure lining—those great, purple stones, every shining drop like a bit of summer evening sky with a star set in it. A whole set, sure—necklace, ear-rings and bracelets, to say nothing of ornaments for the hair. And madame did look for all the world like a queen when she wore them.

"Let me see, the last time she had them on was at the grand ball given in honor of Master Ancel's twenty-first birthday. He was her only child, you know, and heir to the big property. He was the very apple of her eye, you can better believe, and had been watched over like a prince of the blood. He had been educated at Eton or Oxford, or some other of those places, and a finer young man it would be hard to find—all ways pleasant spoken to everybody, in spite of his pride and dignity.

"He was very fond of Miss Ethel. I haven't told you about her, have I? She was a distant relative of the family. Her father, Guy Seyne, had been an artist and had gone away to France, and had there married a girl who had nothing but pretty face and an aristocratic name, for her ancestors—the most of them—had lost everything, even their lives, in that awful fuss they had over there in France—I mean when they cut off the heads of the king and the poor, pretty queen.

"Guy and his wife managed to get along somehow; but, as ill-luck would have it, both were taken sick and died, and when on death's bed he sent a letter to madame, who was his favorite cousin, begging her to take care of his daughter.

"It seems he had put the child in a school called a pension in France, and she could stay there until her education was finished; then he wanted her brought to Cedarcroft. And madame, who was, I must say, as generous as sunshine, was perfectly willing to do as her poor cousin asked.

"Miss Ethel was only seventeen when she came to us, but such a mere slip of a girl that you would have thought her younger. Chidish in her manners, too, but very graceful and a perfect lady, from the crown of her shining, chestnut hair to the tip of her dainty feet.

"Handsome? Well, one wouldn't be likely to say so at first, for her face was so small and brown; but when she began talking, or got interested in anything, my! a color as rich as a damask rose crept into her cheeks, her pretty, white teeth peeped out from between her red lips, and her big brown eyes sparkled like diamonds. And when the grand ball I told you about was held she was the most beautiful there, and that was saying a good deal, because two of the belles of the country were there—Miss Adelina Plympton, a great, showy creature, dark and rich as a Spanish lady, and pretty pink-and-white Dora David-

"And, my, how grand they were dressed! Miss Adelina in rily velvet and Miss Dora in blue satin and lovely point-lace. Miss Ethel wore a plain, white silk, with ropes of pearls around her neck, and a wreath of holly-green leaves and red berries twined in her shining, brown hair; but I can't describe how perfectly lovely she looked; there was something just dazzling about her, and young Master Ancel was bewitched from the very first.

"Did his mother like this? Bless you, no! She looked as black as a thundercloud every time they danced together—which was so often as to attract attention, I can tell you.

"You see, she had planned for him to marry either Miss Adelina or Miss Dora—for both were great beauties—and she had never dreamed that the little brown-eyed lassie, the dependent, would overturn her plan.

"But true love is often willful, you know, and I rather guess that Miss Ethel and Master Ancel both found out at that birthday bell that they loved each other.

"And for the next month there wasn't much peace at Cedarcroft, you can better believe. Madame was so cross that none of us servants knew whether we stood on our heads or our feet. And finally, when Master Ancel was off in Scotland hunting with some friends, madame and Miss Ethel had a dreadful quarrel, which was ended in the young lady packing her trunk and leaving the house.

"And that wasn't the worst of it! The next morning, early, I was called into madame's room by a sharp ring of her bell. I knew the minute I got in that something unusual had happened; for madame was standing in the middle of the room, her face pale with anger and her great, black eyes sparkling.

"The daring hussy!" she cried. "Look, Martha! The sapphires are stolen!"

"And with her long, lean fingers, trembling with excitement, she held out the silver snake.

"And did they find Miss Ethel? Oh, yes. She was a teacher in the French school where she had received her own education. But it didn't take much teasing on the part of the young master to get her home again.

"And madame never said another word against the marriage, and even went so far as to have the pretty bride wear the Syne sapphires."—Mary E. Brush, in Illustrated World.

"She's going to hide that away," young master whispered. "See, she is opening that old trunk! Now, look and see if she has anything else in the trunk."

"And, peering from behind the huge chimney in the middle of the garret, we both watched, breathlessly, as slowly and carefully madame unlocked the trunk.

"And what do you suppose we saw?

"Balls of lace and ribbons, and odds and ends of all sorts, even to a china teapot which, six months before, madame had been ready to swear was broken by Mary Jane.

"But, greatest of all, there, amid the rubbish, were the sapphires, flashing out from the dingy depths of the trunk!

"Lord a mussy!" I gasped staggering against the chimney. "Madame took the sapphires and hid them there herself!"

"That's just it," said Master Ancel. "My mother is a sleep-walker. I suspected it this week, and have been on the watch. But, hush! We must not wake her now, or it might do some injury to her brain. Come down quietly, Martin.

"Of course, madame was dreadfully angry the next morning when her son told her. She declared up and down that she wouldn't believe it. But when he took her up to the garret, and the trunk was unlocked and everything had stored away there lay revealed before her, she was forced to give in; and then she broke out into such a violent fit of crying that even Master Ancel was frightened.

"Poor, poor Ethel!" she cried. "I can never forgive myself for misjudging her! Do try and find her, Ancel. I want to ask her to forgive me!"

"And did they find Miss Ethel? Oh, no! ma'm! I screamed out, for I was dreadfully startled; however do you suppose the thieves got in? There wasn't a door nor window left unfastened last night—I saw to them myself! And all the silver is untouched—not a spoon gone!

"Poor, poor Ethel!" she cried. "I can never forgive myself for misjudging her! Do try and find her, Ancel. I want to ask her to forgive me!"

"And did they find Miss Ethel? Oh, no! ma'm! I screamed out, for I was dreadfully startled; however do you suppose the thieves got in? There wasn't a door nor window left unfastened last night—I saw to them myself! And all the silver is untouched—not a spoon gone!

"Poor, poor Ethel!" she cried. "I can never forgive myself for misjudging her! Do try and find her, Ancel. I want to ask her to forgive me!"

"And with her long, lean fingers, trembling with excitement, she held out the silver snake.

"And did they find Miss Ethel? Oh, yes. She was a teacher in the French school where she had received her own education. But it didn't take much teasing on the part of the young master to get her home again.

"And madame never said another word against the marriage, and even went so far as to have the pretty bride wear the Syne sapphires."—Mary E. Brush, in Illustrated World.

A Poormaster's Joke.

Some days ago a well-dressed man, apparently in the prime of life, entered the office of the poormaster and said he was sick and desired, if possible, to obtain a general息.

Arnold, seeing that he was a stranger and apparently in better circumstances than the class of individuals who usually make such applications, expressed regret at not being able to grant the request, as all parties receiving such assistance must be residents of the city and recommended by a ratepayer. The stranger admitted that he was not a resident having only reached Buffalo that morning from Rochester. He wished it understood, however, that he had seen better days and that he made the application in good faith. After some further conversation Clerk Arnold took him to the Poormaster's room and introduced him to Mr. Kraft, who questioned him closely, as he does all applicants for assistance. With his usual good cheer, Mr. Kraft refused to refuse his application, and called the numbers of the carriages, helps the ladies out, keeps rogues away and knows everybody.

"How do you go about serving a wedding collation?"

"I send my head man to inspect the dining-room and kitchen. Then the dishes and silver are sent, the kitchen being given entirely into the hands of my men. They set the table, mix the salad, turn out the ice, etc., and just before the guests come I go over and see if everything is going smoothly. Some with their everything left over away.

The family like the remains of the feast watered in a moment of absent-mindedness.

"As the reporter left the caterer's he encountered Johnson, Johnson is a young and rather good-looking man.

He takes charge of the carriages and the admittance of guests at every fashionable affair. He is to be seen standing under the awning of the mansion at which the ball or wedding is occurring, and calls the numbers of the carriages, helps the ladies out, keeps rogues away and knows everybody.

"Why, said a young lady, "there is never the least danger of anyone but those we desire getting into a house as long as Johnson is at hand. You can trust him entirely. And everyone is sure to get their own carriage, too, he did not know how he was to get over the rule which requires all applicants for admission to the general hospital to be residents of the city. After puzzling over the matter for several minutes he again began to question the stranger and finally asked him what his name was. The stranger then replied, laughing:

"My name is Thompson. I arrived this morning from Rochester. When at home I am Poormaster of that city, and being on business in Buffalo, I thought I would call and see you."

A hearty laugh greeted the reposal, and our worthy Poormaster, relieved from an embarrassing situation, enjoyed the joke amazingly.

Mr. Thompson was then introduced to the officials and after a pleasant afternoon chat returned home. He expressed himself well pleased with the manner in which the Buffalo Poor Department is conducted and especially the careful investigation which all applicants receive before relief is granted.

"One night, as I lay awake listening to the rain-drops patterning on the roof, there came a gentle tap at the door.

"Thinking that it was Mary Jane, the house-maid, who had been pestered late with an aortal tooth, and who had now, perhaps, come for some creosote, I hurried out of bed and opened the door.

Care for Smallpox.

The Mexican Consul at Madrid, Spain, under date of April 15, 1883, writes to his government in Mexico as follows:

In El Liberal newspaper, which is published in this city, appears an item which I believe should be made known in our country, in order that the medical faculty may make use of the information in the treatment of that terrible scourge, the smallpox.

"Hardly knowing whether I was awake or dreaming, I did as bad me, and then followed him down the long hall to the end where the door to the garret was.

"We must go up the stairs," he whispered. "Hush, Martha!" he whispered; "don't make any noise. Slip on your dress quickly and follow me. I think I have found the thief who stole the sapphires!"

"Hardly knowing whether I was awake or dreaming, I did as bad me, and then followed him down the long hall to the end where the door to the garret was.

"We must go up the stairs," he whispered. "Hush, Martha!" he whispered; "don't make any noise. Slip on your dress quickly and follow me. I think I have found the thief who stole the sapphires!"

"Hardly knowing whether I was awake or dreaming, I did as bad me, and then followed him down the long hall to the end where the door to the garret was.

"We must go up the stairs," he whispered. "Hush, Martha!" he whispered; "don't make any noise. Slip on your dress quickly and follow me. I think I have found the thief who stole the sapphires!"

HIGH-PRICED BRIDES.

WHAT IT COSTS TO HAVE THE NATIONAL KNOT TIED IN HIGH-LIFE.

Roses at Thirty Dollars a Piece—A Small Fortune in Stationery—An Introduction to the Accomplished Mr. Johnson.

(From the New York Journal.)

"A New York fashionable wedding is a very expensive thing," said a prominent New-Yorker of Fifteenth st.

"Of course," said the reporter, "the bride's clothes cost a great deal, and perhaps the groom has to be presented with a magnificent gold-mounted cane, which rested by his side, and looked impressively at Mr. Seymour, who sat next to it. Mr. Seymour appropriated the cane and passed out into the street.

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'"

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a wedding and I want you to furnish it.' 'All right,' I say, 'how many guests?' 'Well, about three hundred to four hundred.'

"The bride's outfit is something I don't know anything about. If it was a wedding in coming off, the bride's father or mother or uncle or somebody comes to me and says: 'I am going to have a Vegetine.

SUPERIOR TO ANY FAMILY MEDICINE.

Parishes the Blood, Removes and Invigorates the Whole System.

—ITS MEDICAL PROPERTIES ARE—

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic.

Vegetine is made exclusively from the leaves of carefully selected bushes, which are gathered in the season that it will extract the essence from the system every part of the body. It is a great Solvent, removing all the impurities from the blood, and so powerful that it will take 10 cups each night from 1 to 15 weeks, may be restored to health again. Vegetine uses them in their practice. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail at one dollar eight letters-stamps. Send for circular. T. S. JOHNSON & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKE NEW RICH BLOOD.

And will completely purge the blood in the entire system in three months. ANY PERSON who will take 10 cups each night from 1 to 15 weeks, may be restored to health again. Vegetine uses them in their practice. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail at one dollar eight letters-stamps. Send for circular. T. S. JOHNSON & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

DIPHTHERIA CROUP ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT.

MADE IN THE U.S.A.

Natural, Inoffensive, Non-Laxative, Blistering or Irritating. Whipping-Cream Liniment.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT.

MADE IN THE U.S.A.

AN INFLAMMATION REMEDY AND CONVENIENT FOR USE IN DIPHTHERIA.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT.

MADE IN THE U.S.A.

CLOSE OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

LADIES' TONIC. The Great Female Remedy.

The Patent Prescription of the Women's Medical Institute,

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

For Leucorrhea, or White Inflammation and Ulcerous Disease of the Vagina; for the Pains of the womb; Irregularities, Flowing, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Barrenness, Painful and Difficult Menstruation, &c.

For making labor easy, so as to avoid for mothers when nursing children, or through change of life, or other causes, the pains of labor.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be disheartened, but give "LADIES' Tonic," and it will succeed. It never fails to give good and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any disease, or any disorder, go to Dr. W. Warren, who will prescribe to you, and advise you, and then take the "LADIES' Tonic."

"LADIES' Tonic" will be given for any case of Female Weakness or inability written "LADIES' Tonic" will be sent you by mail, free, and will be sent to any responsible ladies, who know their experience with "LADIES' Tonic" can do.

(Mention this paper.)

For Sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN &
Co., Boston, Mass.

The common has been mowed this week.

The Burrows family have been to the beach.

W. H. Park is studying law in C. A.
Jewell's office.

Mrs. Dr. Sturton and child have returned to Henniker.

Mrs. Charles Tooby is in Lyndon, Vt.,
visiting her parents.

The first quarterly conference of the E. B. church was held Saturday evening.

Mrs. Lillian Winegar and two children are visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate B.
Sturton.

Loyalty feast at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Presiding Elder Cliley
preached.

There has been some drain laid between Tufts two blocks to carry away
the water from the roof.

Several large teams conveyed the Normal school young ladies to Squam Lake
and vicinity last Saturday.

There was recently a full page picture of Senator Blair in the Tomahawk, a paper printed in Washington.

Mr. Rufus Cook, civil engineer on the
P. V. R. has a new fence in front of his residence near the Town Hall.

Rev. John Currier was present at the Memorial service at the Tabernacle at 10
a. m., procession well formed on Normal School grounds and headed by the Ashland band march to Langdon Park. 10:30
a. m., exercises at the Grand Stand as follows: Ten minutes address by Rev.
D. C. Knowles; singing by the Methodist choir; school recitation by Frederic Knowles; reading of Declaration of Independence by Charles of the Day, Charles A. Jewell, Esq.; elegy—
"America"; ten minutes address by Rev.
Mr. Shinn; singing by Universalist Sunday school; recitation by Ruth McClure; ten minutes address by Rev. H. F. Peck; singing by Congregational Sunday school; address by Dr. F. W. M. Frazee; ten minutes address by Alvin Burleigh, Esq.; singing—"The Star Spangled Banner"; 12 m. national salute of 88 guns. 2:30 p. m.—
100 race. 1st prize, $3.00; 2nd prize,
$2.00; 3rd prize, $1.00; 4th prize, 50
cents; 5th prize, one basket potatoe;
2:30 p. m., sack race. 1st prize, $1.00;
2nd prize, $0.50. 4 p. m., award and presentation of prizes. 8 p. m., band concert in the common. 9 p. m., grand display of fireworks. Each Sunday school recitation forms at 10:30 a. m., at the respective churches and join the procession in a body. The Grand Army Post and the public generally are also requested to join the procession. No firing of guns, pistols, crackers, torpedoes or other explosives will be allowed on the grounds of the Park during the day.

CHARLES A. JEWELL,
President of the Day.
MANSON S. BROWN,
Marshal.

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the Court House to appoint various committees for the Fourth, and to call overtures to the State for the election
of a representative chosen for general committee chairman, Charles A. Jewell; H. J.
Kent, W. E. Langdon, Q. H. Shinn and
M. A. Ferrin. Committee on fireworks,
E. W. Burleigh and W. Sherman, Frank
Lewis, Alvin Burleigh and John C.
Chase. On games, W. E. Burleigh and Alvin Burleigh, Arthur Hazleton and George H. Adams. To award prizes on the Horrifics and pig race, George W. Little,
John Mason and Plummer Fox.

Horrifics: Horatio J. Kent, chaiman
Sherman Woodbury, B. F. Smith, Fred
Batchelder, E. H. Mitchell, Chauncy A.
Fellows, Charles George.

Provisions, ice cream and lemonade
will be sold at the Park.

PLYMOUTH PARAGRAPHS.

Harry Young has recently arrived here.

Miss Mary Clark returned to Waltham on Wednesday.

The partitions in Burrows' store have recently moved here.

Fred C. Blodgett and family have recently moved here.

Burrows' building has been painted in new and attractive colors.

E. H. Weeks has had a new portico put up before his front door.

Hereafter no return passes will be allowed to live stock and potato shippers.

Some new wire post office boxes have arrived here and are soon to be put up.

Free printing will be done at this office in aid of the Fourth of July celebration.

A party of summer tourists recently went fishing from here up the East Branch.

E. Baker, of Rumney, is clerk at the S. H. Hotel, Hampton Beach, again this summer.

The close of the season at New Hampshire took place on the 1st of August.

Fred Wright recent, "I obtained a $5.00 deposit in the Chandler Scientific department, Hanover, for a well written paper."

The depot platform is to be extended about 100 hundred feet south, a few feet to the east.

Rev. Cyrus Richardson, of Keene, formerly pastor of the Congregational church here, will probably accept a call to Nashua soon.

The ticket office is to be located in the northern end of the waiting room, so as to accommodate those in the restaurant and on the platform as well.

As will be seen, Mr. Rich, the photographer, is to have here soon after the Fourth and all wishing any of his fine photographs should call immediately.

A small extension has been built upon the Penitentiary House kitchen from the roof of the restaurant in order to facilitate the supply of orders for its patron below.

Dr. Burns and wife have returned.
Collar and bane harness at Houston's for $3.00.

Miss Fannie Sargent has been quite ill with the measles.

Merrill Burrows has recently been at work in the bakery.

A. S. Hazleton has been at Hanover a portion of the week.

Miss Belle Burrows is at work at the Penitentiary House.

A. W. Prescott has moved into L. L.
Dyer's cottage on Langdon street.

Some rail laying was done above here last Sunday, a train being run for that purpose.

Certain trains were somewhat late Monday, it being the opening day of the summer arrangement.

A pale blue feather, quite a curiosity employed in this office.

A party of recent young lady students here have gone on a trip to the mountains in private teams.

William Alexander of this place describes a job at haying. Will work well at reasonable wages and promises good satisfaction.

Living Dr. Barnes' recent wedding tour he caught a fine blue fish that weighed nearly a dozen pounds, a weight that is seldom attained.

Mrs. E. Upham, of Bridgewater, has lately come into the possession of two very large, rare and beautiful green butterflies.

The places lately washed out on the P.
R. R. will be rolled in trestle work, which will allow the water to pass through the road bed without damage.

Brook Darling, of the "Brick," will soon leave, as he intends going away to school and Arthur Eaton, who is also a clerk there, is to spend the summer in Wenworth.

Brewster Coburn's little child was hadly scalped recently by pulling over a pall of hot starch which had been set on the table, and spilling the contents upon its arms and body.

The P. R. R. will begin its summer service of trains next week, driving the road a number of miles over half of the way recently on account of damage done by the late storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving's little daughter Mabel, who we reported as very sick with scarletina, died on Thursday morning at a distance from the measles. She was given every advice concerning her health and diseases by mail, free, by sending symptoms and asking for advice, and two or three times we have sent our pamphlets to women. Address Women's Medical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

(Mention this paper.)

For Sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN &
Co., Boston, Mass.

The common has been mowed this
week.

The Burrows family have been to the beach.

W. H. Park is studying law in C. A.
Jewell's office.

Mrs. Charles Tooby is in Lyndon, Vt.,
visiting her parents.

The first quarterly conference of the
E. B. church was held Saturday evening.

Mrs. Lillian Winegar and two children
are visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate B.
Sturton.

Loyalty feast at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Presiding Elder Cliley
preached.

There has been some drain laid between Tufts two blocks to carry away
the water from the roof.

Several large teams conveyed the Normal school young ladies to Squam Lake
and vicinity last Saturday.

There was recently a full page picture
of Senator Blair in the Tomahawk, a paper printed in Washington.

Mr. Rufus Cook, civil engineer on the
P. V. R. has a new fence in front of his residence near the Town Hall.

Rev. John Currier was present at the Memorial service at the Tabernacle at 10
a. m., procession well formed on Normal
School grounds and headed by the Ashland band march to Langdon Park. 10:30
a. m., exercises at the Grand Stand as follows: Ten minutes address by Rev.
D. C. Knowles; singing by the Methodist choir; school recitation by Ruth McClure; ten minutes address by Alvin Burleigh, Esq.; singing—"The Star Spangled Banner"; 12 m. national salute of 88 guns. 2:30 p. m.—
100 race. 1st prize, $3.00; 2nd prize,
$2.00; 3rd prize, $1.00; 4th prize, 50
cents; 5th prize, one basket potatoe;
2:30 p. m., sack race. 1st prize, $1.00;
2nd prize, $0.50. 4 p. m., award and presentation of prizes. 8 p. m., band concert in the common. 9 p. m., grand display
of fireworks. Each Sunday school
recitation forms at 10:30 a. m., at the respective churches and join the procession in a body. The Grand Army
Post and the public generally are also requested to join the procession. No firing of guns, pistols, crackers, torpedoes
or other explosives will be allowed on the grounds of the Park during the day.

CHARLES A. JEWELL,
President of the Day.
MANSON S. BROWN,
Marshal.

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the Court House to appoint various committees for the Fourth, and to call overtures to the State for the election
of a representative chosen for general committee chairman, Charles A. Jewell; H. J.
Kent, W. E. Langdon, Q. H. Shinn and
M. A. Ferrin. Committee on fireworks,
E. W. Burleigh and W. Sherman, Frank
Lewis, Alvin Burleigh and John C.
Chase. On games, W. E. Burleigh and Alvin Burleigh, Arthur Hazleton and George H. Adams. To award prizes on the Horrifics and pig race, George W. Little,
John Mason and Plummer Fox.

Horrifics: Horatio J. Kent, chaiman
Sherman Woodbury, B. F. Smith, Fred
Batchelder, E. H. Mitchell, Chauncy A.
Fellows, Charles George.

Provisions, ice cream and lemonade
will be sold at the Park.

PROGRAMME OF THE FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT PLYMOUTH, 1883.

At sunrise 13 guns and ringing of bells, 8 a. m., parade of Antiques and Horrifics. At the conclusion of the parade award and presentation of prizes on the common. 1st prize, $3.00; second prize, $2.00; 3rd prize, a patent gold and chain. 9 a. m., grecian pie chase from the Tabernacle to the Tabernacle, 1st prize, $1.00; 2nd prize, one basket potatoe;
3rd prize, 50 cents. 10:30 a. m., sack race. 1st prize, $1.00;
2nd prize, $0.50. 4 p. m., award and presentation of prizes. 8 p. m., band concert in the common. 9 p. m., grand display
of fireworks. Each Sunday school
recitation forms at 10:30 a. m., at the respective churches and join the procession in a body. The Grand Army
Post and the public generally are also requested to join the procession. No firing of guns, pistols, crackers, torpedoes
or other explosives will be allowed on the grounds of the Park during the day.

CHARLES A. JEWELL,
President of the Day.
MANSON S. BROWN,
Marshal.

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the Court House to appoint various committees for the Fourth, and to call overtures to the State for the election
of a representative chosen for general committee chairman, Charles A. Jewell; H. J.
Kent, W. E. Langdon, Q. H. Shinn and
M. A. Ferrin. Committee on fireworks,
E. W. Burleigh and W. Sherman, Frank
Lewis, Alvin Burleigh and John C.
Chase. On games, W. E. Burleigh and Alvin Burleigh, Arthur Hazleton and George H. Adams. To award prizes on the Horrifics and pig race, George W. Little,
John Mason and Plummer Fox.

Horrifics: Horatio J. Kent, chaiman
Sherman Woodbury, B. F. Smith, Fred
Batchelder, E. H. Mitchell, Chauncy A.
Fellows, Charles George.

Provisions, ice cream and lemonade
will be sold at the Park.

THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES USE—

WELCOME

SOAP

Not only for its Purity, but because of its superiority in

WASHING QUALITIES

Peculiar to the manufacturers of

DAVIS'S AVAIS & CO.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The reputation of this and other brands of Curtis Davis & Co.'s Soaps has made the name of "Davis" popular in every community in relation to the use of soap. That this reputation has been gained by people accepting almost any kind marked "Davis" is true, but that all may know when they actually get Curtis Davis & Co.'s goods is the object of this notice. Possessing a large assortment of soaps and other articles, we can assure you that they are of the best quality and are well suited to the wants of every family.

Mr. C. Boynton, Concord, N. H., is Headquarters for Dry Goods. He has just opened Special Bargains in All Wool
Jacob's Lamb, 75¢. All Wool Plain, 15c.
25c. Bay Cloth, 15c. 25c. 35c. 45c.
75c. Short Dresses, nicely trimmed with hamburg and embroidery, at less than half the price one can make them for. The bargains in Dry Goods. Mr. Boynton is giving, are worthy the attention of every lady who is engaged in the preparation of her house.

O. W. Keyes Post, No. 35, Des't, have decided to have a lawn party sometime in the near future, and arrangements are being made to have a lawn party in the rear of the house.

Our few days of rain have not interfered with our plans.

Mr. C. Boynton, Concord, N. H., is
Headquarters for Dry Goods. He has just opened Special Bargains in All Wool
Jacob's Lamb, 75¢. All Wool Plain, 15c.
25c. Bay Cloth, 15c. 25c. 35c. 45c.
75c. Short Dresses, nicely trimmed with hamburg and embroidery, at less than half the price one can make them for. The bargains in Dry Goods. Mr. Boynton is giving, are worthy the attention of every lady who is engaged in the preparation
of her house.

Ice cool soda with delicious syrups at Porter's. We have sampled it and pronounce it first-class.

We are informed by reliable authority that Rev. G. G. Jones has decided to accept the pastorate of St. Mark's church. The decision of Mr

NEWS OF THE DAY

GENERAL ITEMS.

On Thursday, the Ohio Democrats, in State Convention at Columbus, on second ballot nominated Judge Headley, of Cincinnati, for Governor.

While under the influence of strong drink two men who were driving recklessly about Ashland, Pa., Thursday, were thrown from a wagon into a deep ditch and killed.

Charley Beckins, the noted minister, died at his residence in New York city, on their day.

The Union and Bay State Manufacturing Company of steel goods, has suspended with liabilities of over half a million dollars.

The platform adopted by the Ohio Democrats commends a tariff for revenue omitted to the necessities of the Government, condemns the reduction on wool as a discrimination against agricultural interests, favors a national system in regulating the liquor traffic, protection of Americans abroad; demands a purification of the Civil Service; denounces the present system of convict labor, and favors the protection of American citizens abroad.

By the explosion of an engine attached to a threshing machine near Greenville, S. C., many persons were injured, some of them fatally.

E. J. Stewart, the sergeant, made an ascent at Fayette, Mo., on Monday, when it was learned that the height of eight feet had been gained. The sergeant came down safe, a result, and then plunged into the鸿运棋牌 Creek, and at once disappeared.

Twenty-one infants, strata, or pairs of skulls, with many other human bones, were found recently in the cellar of a doctor's house in Philadelphia.

Mashed bologna held a pistol to a Westchester County Quaker's head while they rained his house of $100 and $400 in cash. He left standing in his night clothes in the yard.

Robert H. Parks & Co., doing business in the New York Stock, Cotton and Produce exchanges, suspended Tuesday, as did, in consequence of the great Chicago land failure. Their Chicago correspondents, however, say that the responsibility for their trouble rests there.

On Tuesday, in New York city, John Devoy, editor of the Irish Nation, was arrested for malicious libel against Mr. August Belmont, to sixty days' imprisonment. Col. Schenck, commanding the 10th Cavalry, said that he will bring the master murderer directly before the Governor. The prisoner was apparently prepared for the sentence, although he was said to stand before the bar. He made a stirring speech before the sentence was pronounced, in which he accused the judges of malice in his charge to the jury. At the trial he was put in prison dress and condemned to a cell.

The first winter's news was admitted to the Pennsylvania bar Tuesday at Philadelphia.

A dispatch from Smartville, Cal., says—The Milton Hydraulic Mining Company's reservoir, containing 500,000 cubic feet of water, burst Tuesday afternoon. The rush of water was irresistible and swept away everything in its path. It raised the Middle Yuba River over one hundred feet. The roar of the rushing water was heard at several points in the state. Sixty lives are reported as lost but this is not confirmed. The loss on the reservoir will amount to $75,000.

Chicago granted nearly fifteen hundred saloon licenses Tuesday.

It is believed at Philadelphia that Captain Harvey, master-of-the-boundary, and his crew, who picked up an un-armed steel vessel, was murdered by the crew and the body thrown overboard.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

The American team sailed in the Alaska, Tuesday. Their report says all in excellent condition and destined for success in the international market.

Arthur H. Blaney, cashier of a loan company, arrested in Boston, admits having converted to his own use $44,000 of the company's funds.

To James McCosh has resigned the presidency of the College of New Jersey at Princeton.

The Mississippi River is still rising. At St. Louis the water is above the danger line. It is feared that a disastrous inundation of the lowlands will take place. At Kansas City the Missouri River has risen to unusual height, and it is reported that the lower banks have been closed by the overflow.

</div